GREEN THINGS GROWING. BY THE AUTHOR OF "JOHN HALIFAX, GENTLEMAN,"

OF PARTY Oh! the green things growing! the green things growing ! The fresh sweet smell of the green things growing ! I would like to live, whether I laugh or grieve, To watch the happy life of the green things growing.

Oh! the fluttering and the pattering of the green things growing! Talking each to each when no man's knowing; In the wonderful white of the weird moon-

Or the grey dreamy dawn when the cocks are crowing.

III. I love, I love them so, the green things growing!
And I think that they love me, without false showing;

For by many a tender touch they comfort me so much. With the mute, mute comfort of green things growing.

And in the full wealth of their blossoms' glowing, Ten for one I take they're on me bestowing; Ah! I should like to see, if God's will it might be, Many, many a summer of my green things

But if I must be gathered for the angels' sow-Sleep out of sight awhile-like the green things growing: Though earth to earth return, I think I shall not mourn, If I may change into green things growing. D. M. M.

TO THE REPUBLICANS OF THE UNION.

New York, May 16.—The National Union Committee appeals to the Republicans of the country for their assistance and co-operation in this anspicious crists of our country.

We deem it of the highest importance that the Republicans of every State should immediately reorganize for the remaining elections of 1867, preparatory to the coming Presidential contest. Especially abound this oversitzation per immediately. paratory to the coming Presidential contest. Especially should this organization be immediately effected in those States which have never before recognized as the only just basis of government the equal and inalienable rights of man. Not a day should be lost in forming and strengthening within those States a public sentiment in consonance with the principles which underlie the great political organization to which we belong.

To this end we desire to prosecute a systematic and thorough canvass of the southern States, by the most efficient speakers of both races. We would second their efforts by a distribution of documents, enforcing the principles, policy and aims would second their efforts by a distribution of documents, enforcing the principles, policy and aims of the Republican party. We would call, in every locality where it is possible, meetings for discussion, where those who are with us in principle may learn to act with unity and energy. These measures are required to bring out the vote of the large body of Republican Unionists who now render the southern States a battle-field of principle. It is the pressing need of the hour that bold, judicious and able men, thoroughly imbused with our cious and able men, thoroughly imbued with our creed, should there explain our principles, establish our faithfulness to them, and prove that national greatness and human freedom depend upon the permanent triumph of our cause.

the permanent triumph of our cause.

Beyond this it is most essential that we should now establish in these States free thought, free speech and a free press. Every part of this republic must be open to the discussion of principles and measures. This must be sustained as a cardinal point in our creed, at all and every hazard. Efforts to intimidate the humble and ignorant voter on the part of the southern planter must be met with the spirit of freemen and the determination which a just cause sanctions.

In time past the Republican party has struggled against the unjust repreach of being sectional in its aims and character, though its purposes and the means of effecting them were such as the fathers of the republic approved. It was accused of being governed by selfish motives, and of desiring to aggrandize the north at the expense of the south.

aggrandize the north at the expense of the south. Its adversaries having the power to stience and to crush all opposition, denied all discussion, and overawed even freedom of thought in fifteen States of the Union. It is, therefore, now an imperative duty which we owe to our party and to convenient to the first oppositionity of truly ourselves, to embrace the first opportunity of truly representing to those States how consistenty we have contended for the interests, welfare and free-representing to those States how consistenty we have convended for the interests, welfare and freedom of the whole Union.

The overthrow of slavery and the rebellion, and the enfranchisement of the freedmen, rendering this overthrow secure and final, has happly vindicated our course and organization; but it is necessary to stamp the conviction of our loyalty and fidelity to the right, irrespective of section or race, upon the reconstructed States. For the first time in many years the enthusiastic followers of our flag and confessors of our faith are there taking part in the popular gatherings, and in many of the southern States we have reason to believe they form a decided majority. They are, however, without organization, and laok the cohesion and discipline necessary to success. Three-fourths of its members have never voted, and have no political knowledge of the means whereby the popular will is expressed. With many of them the habit is fixed of rendering implicit obedience to able and dexterous politicians who are implacably hostile to our principles, and determined on the prostration of our cause.

Our immediate action is therefore imperative.

We cannot delay without imperitling all for which so much has been sacrificed in the past. Confident

We cannot delay without imperiling all for which so much has been sacrificed in the past. Confident in our strength in the north and west and Pacific States, we must not forget that we have a great duty to perform towards the loyal and true men of the south.

REFUBLICANS: our appeal is to you, to carry on and sustain the work which a few loyal and true men have so nobly begun. We cannot ask speakers, in addition to giving their time and talents for months to this labor, to defray their own necessary expenses. We cannot print and distribute documents of the observers required without a heavy ments of the character required without a heavy outlay. We have no means of reliance except upon the generous spirit of that party which holds the claims of humanity and freedom above all price. The patronage of the government, brought into power by the statesmanship, the courage and the loyalty of that party, will not aid us in this

We must therefore appeal directly and person We must therefore appeal directly and personally to you. If you are rich, give generously. If poor, send to us whatever you can shord. The generous purpose and the noble aim sanctify the humblest efforts. At all events, act promptly, and let us feel that the sympathy of the Republican party is with us in our purpose of making this great land the home of true Republican principles, where distinctions of race and color are unknown, and where liberty, virtue and intelligence form the enduring basis of our greatness and prosperity.

HERE IS A GOOD VOLUNTEER DRILL FOR SINGLE MEX:-Fall in love with some good and industrious woman. Attention pay to her faithfully and respectfully. Right face in popping the question, like a man. Quick march to the parents and ask their consent. File right with her to the church, and go through the service of matrimony. Halt and reflect seriously upon the new duties which you have assumed, and then perform them. Right about face from the haunts which you frequented when single, and prefer your own home. Advance arms to your young wife when out walking with her, and never leave her to trail behind. Break off staying out at night and other bad habits, if you wish to have a happy home.

.The celebrated Yelverton case, which made so much noise in the English courts a few years since, forms a portion of the materials of Mr. Cyrus W. Redding's new novel, "A Wife and Not a Wife," which was lately published.
